

Retailer Statement Common THESIS 2023 Start Date

Dear valued supplier,

On behalf of the retailers using THESIS, we are excited to announce a common THESIS 2023 campaign season! THESIS, the Sustainability Insights System, will launch on September 5th. This common reporting date should make it easier to participate with THESIS retailers.

THESIS is designed to increase transparency across the global supply chain and help you evaluate the sustainability progress you are making for the products you sell. The information you share with us helps us understand where you are on your own sustainability journey, highlights your progress to us and informs ways we might partner together. You will receive reminders from us throughout the fall to complete product-category level assessments. We want to thank the suppliers who completed THESIS in 2022, and we're excited for you to return to THESIS 2023.

The Sustainability Consortium and SupplyShift are here to help you access THESIS, clarify instructions and guidance to support you in completing the questions and use the information within your scorecards to help your business become more sustainable. Please contact the THESIS Helpdesk at help@sustainabilityconsortium.org if you have further questions or Director of Retailer, Amy Scoville-Weaver at amy.scoville-weaver@sustainabilityconsortium.org.

We welcome your engagement this year and look forward to THESIS 2023.
